

True Potential Goldman Sachs Income Builder

30 April 2026

Fund objective

The Fund aims to provide income (paid monthly), whilst offering the potential for growth. The fund also aims to achieve its objectives with a lower volatility (a measure of the size of short term changes in the value of an investment) than the MSCI World Index.

April Update

Global equities rallied in April amid hopes of a ceasefire in the Middle East and solid corporate earnings. Emerging Market (EM) equities led the gains and outpaced their developed market counterparts. In developed markets, US shares outperformed, while UK equities proved a laggard. In fixed income, UK Gilts underperformed, while riskier high-yield (HY) bonds did well.

The True Potential Goldman Sachs Income Builder Fund returned 2.14% (net of fees). The Fund's underexposure to equities hindered performance in a strong month for the asset class. The Fund's allocation to high dividend yield shares proved unhelpful as they lagged the broader market. Security selection also weighed on returns, with the Fund's exposure to energy giants Shell and Chevron, and pharmaceutical firm Johnson & Johnson among the most notable detractors. Conversely, key contributors included semiconductor names Infineon Technologies, Texas Instruments and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company. In fixed income, the Fund's large allocation to global HY bonds outpaced their investment grade peers yet lagged global equities. Meanwhile, the exposure to EM debt was supportive over the period.

What is the benchmark for this fund?

The benchmark for this fund is Morningstar UK Moderate Target Allocation. The benchmark may be used as a guide to compare and assess the performance of the Fund. This benchmark tracks the performance of an index that represents assets or securities with a similar risk profile to the Fund. Our aim is to help you monitor how your investment is performing. This benchmark reflects the multi-asset nature and relative risk profile of the Fund. The Fund does not use the benchmark as a target, nor is the Fund constrained by it. The mix of assets in the Fund may vary from those of the benchmark (and its constituents). Accordingly, it should be used for reference purposes only.

Risks

The following are some of the key risks associated with investing in this Fund. For a complete list of risks, please refer to the Fund's prospectus, available at www.truepotential.co.uk/fund-documents. Please be aware that there is no guarantee that capital will be preserved.

| Risk type | Description |
|---------------------------|--|
| Performance Risk | Investment objectives express an intended result but there is no guarantee that such a result will be achieved. Depending on market conditions and the macro-economic environment, certain investment types and styles may perform better than others and investment objectives may become more difficult to achieve. |
| Counterparty Risk | There may be cases where the organisation from which we buy a derivative, or an asset, fails to meet its obligations. The Fund's cash deposits are also subject to counterparty risk. |
| Derivative Risk | The Fund is entitled to use derivatives. Derivatives may not achieve their intended purpose. Their prices may move up or down significantly over relatively short periods of time which may result in losses greater than the amount paid. |
| Operational Risk | The Fund faces non-market risk, relating to purchasing, holding and servicing the Fund's assets. |
| Credit Risk | Where the Fund invests in bonds, there is a risk the bond issuer may fail to meet its repayments. Changes in interest rates, inflation and the creditworthiness of the bond issuer may also affect the bond's market value. This risk is particularly relevant where the fund invests in bonds with a lower credit rating. |
| Exchange Rate Risk | The Fund may invest in securities not denominated in GBP. The value of your investments may be affected by changes in currency exchange rates. |
| Liquidity Risk | Certain market conditions could make sufficiently liquid assets difficult to sell quickly at a fair price. This could result in an unpredictable fall in the value, and overall liquidity of the Fund. |
