

True Potential TrinityBridge Cautious

28 November 2025

Fund objective

The Fund aims to provide income and moderate growth.

November Update

Global equities were volatile in October yet ended flat as sentiment recovered towards the end of the month. In developed markets, European and UK shares outperformed, while Japanese shares underperformed. Emerging Market (EM) shares proved a laggard, dragged down by weakness in China. In fixed income, US Treasuries outperformed amid lower yields. Elsewhere, gold delivered solid gains, supported by a softer US dollar.

The True Potential TrinityBridge Cautious Fund returned -0.34% (net of fees). The Fund's large allocation to equities proved a hindrance in a volatile month for the asset class. The Fund's preference for growth style equities also weighed on returns as they underperformed their value style peers. Our recent addition to the technology sector was particularly unhelpful, as it proved the laggard over the month amid rising concerns about stretched valuations of artificial intelligence shares. At the stock level, key detractors included the two largest equity positions – Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company and Microsoft – which both produced negative returns. A smaller allocation to UK-based investment company specialising in private equity and infrastructure 3i Group also hurt performance as the shares ended the month with a double-digit loss. More positively, American technology company Alphabet and gold miners Franco-Nevada and Wheaton Precious Metals provided the most notable contributions. In fixed income, UK long-dated Gilts outperformed while a sizeable allocation to US Treasuries also did well. In alternatives, the Fund's exposure to gold was beneficial.

Risks

The following are some of the key risks associated with investing in this Fund. For a complete list of risks, please refer to the Fund's prospectus, available at www.truepotential.co.uk/fund-documents. Please be aware that there is no guarantee that capital will be preserved.

Risk type	Description
Performance Risk	Investment objectives express an intended result but there is no guarantee that such a result will be achieved. Depending on market conditions and the macro-economic environment, certain investment types and styles may perform better than others and investment objectives may become more difficult to achieve.
Counterparty Risk	There may be cases where the organisation from which we buy a derivative, or an asset, fails to meet its obligations. The Fund's cash deposits are also subject to counterparty risk.
Derivative Risk	The Fund is entitled to use derivatives. Derivatives may not achieve their intended purpose. Their prices may move up or down significantly over relatively short periods of time which may result in losses greater than the amount paid.
Operational Risk	The Fund faces non-market risk, relating to purchasing, holding and servicing the Fund's assets.
Credit Risk	Where the Fund invests in bonds, there is a risk the bond issuer may fail to meet its repayments. Changes in interest rates, inflation and the creditworthiness of the bond issuer may also affect the bond's market value. This risk is particularly relevant where the fund invests in bonds with a lower credit rating.
Exchange Rate Risk	The Fund may invest in securities not denominated in GBP. The value of your investments may be affected by changes in currency exchange rates.
Liquidity Risk	Certain market conditions could make sufficiently liquid assets difficult to sell quickly at a fair price. This could result in an unpredictable fall in the value, and overall liquidity of the Fund.
