

True Potential Aggressive Portfolio

Portfolio Objective

The objective of the True Potential Aggressive Portfolio is to provide investors with a way to achieve their investment goals. The Portfolio offers full exposure to different manager styles within the Aggressive risk profile. We review the Portfolio monthly and, if necessary, rebalance to the allocation of styles that we believe offers the best opportunity for growth within the Aggressive risk profile. The Portfolio aims to produce a higher risk-adjusted outcome at a lower average cost, compared to an equally-weighted model of Aggressive funds.

Risk Profile: Aggressive

The Aggressive Investor usually aims to maximise long-term expected returns rather than to minimise possible short-term losses. An Aggressive Investor values high returns relatively more and can tolerate both large and frequent fluctuations through time in portfolio value in exchange for a higher return over the long-term.

Investment Commentary

The True Potential Aggressive Portfolio returned +4.60% in December 2023, net of Portfolio OCF.

We experienced the second consecutive month of strong asset market returns to close out the calendar year. The key drivers of returns were further signs of falling inflation across developed markets, which gave investors greater optimism Central Banks have reached peak interest rates and have scope to reduce rates through 2024. The magnitude of cuts expected in 2024 increased over December. Whilst Central Bankers aimed to manage these market expectations, recognising inflation across the UK, Europe and US is running ahead of target (2.0%), a more dovish tone was stuck by the US Federal Reserve.

Within the portfolio, stronger performing funds included True Potential UBS and True Potential Pictet Aggressive. Both funds benefitted from their large allocation to equities, with UBS' mix of equity factors supportive whereas for Pictet, their Thematic equity portfolio delivered strong returns in the environment of falling inflation and bond yields. UBS also benefitted from its allocation to longer dated US government bonds.

Over the period, no changes were made to the Portfolio manager allocations after agreement that the allocations are optimally positioned in line with our longer-term market outlook. However changes have been made at the underlying fund level. Examples include additions to European equities, where lower valuations are seen as attractive, as well as additions to lower quality corporate bonds globally as managers looked to access the high yields on offer where managers have moved less cautious on the economic environment.
