

True Potential Growth + Portfolio

Portfolio Objective

The objective of the True Potential Growth + Portfolio is to provide investors with a way to achieve their investment goals. The Portfolio offers exposure to a select group of investment partners and a range of risk profiles (Defensive to Aggressive), whilst remaining within the Capital Growth risk profile. We review the Portfolio monthly and, if necessary, rebalance to the allocation of styles that we believe offers the best opportunity for growth within the Capital Growth risk profile. The Portfolio aims to produce a higher risk-adjusted outcome at a lower average cost, compared to an equally-weighted model of Capital Growth funds.

Risk Profile: Growth

The Growth Investor may be willing to accept high risk and chance of loss in order to achieve higher returns on his or her investment. Significant losses over an extended period may prompt the Growth Investor to shift to a less risky investment.

Investment Commentary

The True Potential Growth + Portfolio produced a return of -1.68% for the month of December.

December proved to be a challenging month for both equities and fixed income on the back of new economic projections from the US central bank, the Federal Reserve. The Fed guided to less interest rate cuts next year and greater concerns on the path of inflation leading to investors pulling back on risk. US equities underperformed the most in the month, giving back some of their impressive year-to-date outperformance. Japanese equities performed strongly, benefiting from weakness in the Japanese Yen versus the US Dollar. Within fixed income, 10 year US Treasury yields rose above 4.6%, 1% higher than mid-September, pulling back on prices. In currency, Sterling depreciated against the US dollar but strengthened against the Euro.

The True Potential Allianz Balanced fund outperformed the other funds within the Portfolio (-0.69%). A more global equity book was beneficial over the period.

Over December, no change was made to manager allocations with the True Potential Growth + Portfolio with the investment team believing that allocations are optimal. The underlying managers are actively making changes with additions to US Treasuries and global sovereign bonds, as well as increasing exposure to European & Japanese equities.
